

Telemarketing is an invasion of my privacy in my home. I receive multiple calls during the day and the evening for gimmicks and products *I do not want*. I NEVER purchase anything through phone solicitation. I think telemarketing should be banned completely. Even if I choose not to answer the phone, the ringing phone is an annoyance, is intrusive and disruptive to my home. (I have been awakened from sleep by these dispicable business practices.) At the very least, they should be required to specifically identify themselves on caller ID so that I can at least choose not to answer their annoying call. Please do something to return peace and quiet to the public in their own homes. If I want something, I will go out to purchase it, I will go on line to purchase it, I will use the phone book to locate a place to purchase it. I will come to them. I DO NOT want them to come to me!
